

HOMEFRONT DONOR PRIVACY POLICY

HomeFront, Inc. has established this privacy policy to demonstrate our commitment to maintaining the confidentiality and privacy of information about visitors to our web sites and donors.

This policy explains why we collect particular information and how we will protect your personal privacy both offline and within our web sites. The following also discloses our information gathering and dissemination practices for the web sites located at:

- www.homefrontprogram.org

These are collectively referred to below as "the Site."

In order to fully understand your rights we encourage you to read this Privacy Policy. Our privacy policies may be changed from time to time, simply by posting such changes on our site, so we encourage you to check back regularly. Any such change will be effective immediately upon posting.

This Privacy Policy notifies you of:

- What personally identifiable information of yours is collected through the Site
- Who collects such information
- How such information is used
- With whom your information may be shared
- What choices you have regarding collection, use and distribution of your information
- What kind of security procedures are in place to protect against the loss, misuse or alteration of information under our control
- How you can correct any inaccuracies in your information or "Opt-Out"

We do not collect personally identifiable information from individuals unless they provide it to us voluntarily. This means we do not require you to provide information to us in order to view our web sites. HomeFront only collects personal information that is voluntarily and knowingly provided to us by a site visitor wanting to make a donation, sign up for our mailing list, apply for employment or volunteer to work with HomeFront, or any party making a donation via mail, phone, in-person, or event attendance -- information that we need to respond appropriately to them. Our registration and contribution forms generally require users to give us their contact information that may include name, address, zip/postal codes, email address, format preference (HTML vs. Text), interests and similar information. This information is only available to HomeFront and third-party service providers involved in the operation of this site. Whether you provide us with your information via the site or in an offline manner, we use reasonable efforts to protect your information to ensure that it is kept private and we require all third-party service providers to hold your personal information in strict confidence; however, we cannot guarantee the security of any information.

If you register on the HomeFront Web Site, or make an online or offline donation and supply us with your email and/or postal address you may receive periodic mailings or online communications from us with information about our current programs and activities around the world. If you do not wish to receive communications from us, you can opt out by emailing us at info@homefrontprogram.org or calling us at (800) 887-4673.

HomeFront will never rent, sell or exchange or share your personal information with others.

The only exceptions to Opting Out where HomeFront could disclose personal information would involve instances required by a law or a regulatory authority. Additionally information could be disclosed in rare cases if we have reason to believe that disclosure of this information is necessary to contact and/or bring legal action against a person(s) who may be inflicting injury or interfering with HomeFront rights, personnel, and property, HomeFront web site users or anyone who could be potentially harmed by such activities, whether intended or not.
